

The Smithsonian is coming to Arizona!

WATER|WAYS 2018-2020

Apply to be one of 12 venues to host this one-of-a-kind opportunity!

Let's connect Arizona's water stories to the national conversation.

Water/Ways explores the endless motion of the water cycle, water's effect on landscape, settlement and migration, and its impact on culture and spirituality. It looks at how political and economic planning have long been affected by access to water and used to control water resources.

Water/Ways is designed for rural communities, small-town museums, libraries and cultural organizations.

The Water/Ways Exhibition includes:

- 5 stand-alone kiosks
- Colorful photographs and interpretive texts
- Audio Clips
- Video Clips
- Hands-on activities
- iPad Interactives
- Assistance with local public programming and exhibit planning

We are looking for venues eager to host a Smithsonian exhibition, develop public programs, connect with local partners, and share a compelling community water story.

Apply to host the Water/Ways exhibition by March 1, 2017

Learn more and apply online at www.azhumanities.org/water-ways

Questions? Contact 602-257-0335 or info@azhumanities.org.

From left to right: "Americans and Mexicans join hands across the Rio Grande," "Colorado River," and "Fishing on the Chattahoochee River, GA"

Water/Ways has been made possible in Arizona by Arizona Humanities and the Walton Sustainability Solutions Initiatives and School of Historical, Philosophical and Religious Studies at Arizona State University. Water/Ways is part of the Museum on Main Street, a collaboration between the Smithsonian Institution and state humanities councils. Support for Museum on Main Street has been provided by the United States Congress.